

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A signaling device for sighting systems, for example for rescue crafts in 5 the nautical field and the like, comprising at least two lamps arranged so that their respective filaments are mutually perpendicular, so as to achieve a circular luminous emission that is uniform over 360°.